

Dear [Referring MD],

Thank you for your continuing patient referrals and collaboration.

[I/We] would like to take this opportunity to share with you that [my/our] practice now has a Web site through Medem™ (www.medem.com), which can serve as an important resource when referring patients to [me/us]. The Web site [insert practice URL] is a tool that can help save you and your staff time and act as a resource for your patients.

[My/Our] site contains relevant and timely clinical information that will be valuable to you, your staff and your patients. When patient questions arise, your staff can simply refer them to this easy-to-use online resource, saving you time by allowing patients instant access to frequently requested information about their appointment at [my/our] office. The Web site contains pertinent medical articles, handouts and studies that have been selected by [my/our] practice from Medem's online library of information from the nation's leading medical societies, so you can be assured that your patients are receiving the most trusted and comprehensive medical information available online today.

The Web site also provides the procedures [my/our] practice performs, the kinds of insurance we accept as well as logistical information such as our address, phone number and directions, complete with map. Instead of relying on you and your office staff to supply this information, patients can quickly and easily access it all via the Internet.

[I/We] appreciate and value your collaboration and have created this Web site in the hopes that you and your patients alike will be able to use it as a time-saving, credible source of information.

Sincerely,

[Your name]
